

FALL 2026
HIS 265

FOOD IN HISTORY, FOOD AS HISTORY PROF. ROSENTHAL

COURSE HIGHLIGHTS:

We will study the role of food from prehistory to modern times emphasizing its connection to economic development, religion, class, gender, popular culture and national identity. We also examine the history of specific foods, ranging from nutritional foundations like maize and wheat to such contemporary gastronomic icons as beer, pizza, chocolate, and ice cream.

OPEN TO ALL STUDENTS-NO PREREQUISITE

REGISTER NOW

Mondays 5:00-7:20

